

To whom it may concern,

I am pleased to write this letter of recommendation on behalf of the Westcliffe Inn, nestled in the heart of the Wet Mountain Valley, this independent inn is locally owned and is Colorado's last and best kept secret!

Westcliffe Inn is a gem tucked away in the mountainside, offering guests a serene experience with the opportunity to take in breath taking views of the Milky Way Galaxy from the valley. The inn offers 28 spacious and modern rooms, accompanied with a range of amenities meant to enhance the guests visit. The complementary Wi-Fi, and hot tub and sauna access is best enjoyed while taking in the pristine mountain views that surround your stay.

Westcliffe Inn is supported by a group of hard working, dedicated and energetic staff who want to provide the guests with the best possible stay. They take the extra step to ensure that whether you're staying one or several nights, you will be treated to a clean, comfortable and quiet room.

I recommend the Westcliffe Inn to anyone looking for a relaxing and quiet mountain getaway, with picturesque views made for a postcard, friendly and devoted staff that make you feel like you are home. If that describes you, Westcliffe Inn is where your next getaway should be.
