

To whom it may concern:

It is an absolute honor to write this letter of recommendation for Restore Corps, an outstanding organization based in Memphis, Tennessee, that is unwavering in its mission to eradicate human trafficking. By empowering survivors, equipping communities, and advocating for systemic change, Restore Corps stands as a beacon of hope and transformation.

Restore Corps has a wealth of knowledge in supporting survivors of human trafficking, as well as individuals involved in child welfare, foster care, probation and parole, veteran services, and beyond. Its survivor services are thoughtfully designed to help clients set and achieve personalized goals, all while offering crucial support to survivors navigating the legal system.

What truly sets Restore Corps apart is its exceptional team. With decades of collective experience working with children and adults who have experienced trauma, the team brings unparalleled care, empathy, and dedication to their work. Their compassionate approach and commitment to building strong, resilient communities position Restore Corps as a leader in driving meaningful change.

Through its quality survivor programs and the dedication of its phenomenal team, Restore Corps sets a gold standard for creating positive, lasting impact in the fight against human trafficking. I wholeheartedly recommend its programs and encourage others to join its team of volunteers to support this remarkable work

Sincerely,

Charlie Keffeler
Strategic-Partner
Schooley Mitchell